SHOULD BE REPRESENTED.

The Herald men return thanks to the Dallas Fair officers for a season ticket to the big show. We appreciate the compliment, but outside of this we are a fair booster because we know this big fair has done a great work in calling attention to the state, and that it is destined to be of great value in the future. Anderson county should be on the scene with a big display of home canned goods and native tobacco, with suitable literature to be placed in the hands of every man who inspects the exhibits. This is a good advertising opportunity and should not be overlooked by this county in its efforts to get on top.—Palestine Daily Herald.

The Herald always stands up for Texas and Texas enterprises. It ever has a kind word for new industries and new men. The home county of Governor Thomas M. Campbell and his home city should have a splendid exhibit of Anderson county products at the State Fair.—Dallas Times Herald.

That's what we are telling them every day.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, in a long pious editorial, comes to the rescue of Mr. Cannon and tries to make it argue well for republican prosperity that Mr. Bryan has been able to make even as much money as he claims in the time he has made it. That is no argument; a man of Mr. Bryan's ability can always make money. If the Globe-Democrat really wants to argue something let it take up the millions of workingmen and see how they have fared under republican "prosperity." Let it explain why thousands of men have been thrown out of employment by mills shutting down while the price of living has steadily advanced. And then let it explain why it was that these same mills after months of idleness discovered just on the eve of a national election that there was a strong demand for goods and are reopening and putting the men back to work. If the Globe-Democrat wants to explain it can keep busy from now until election, and then still have much that cannot be explained.

A subscriber asks the Herald why it does not tackle the mosquito problem, as well as the dog nuisance. Why bless his soul, we have been preaching against the mosquito all the summer, and the mosquito has been with us all the time. It is sometimes hard to tell just why mosquitoes are so bad. The summer has been a very dry one, and water has been used sparingly. True, some people leave water running, and others have not screened their cisterns, and it may be true that there are some cesspools still in existence, but these things are beyond a newspaper to correct. The city has provided a penalty against the man who owns a cesspool and it is up to the officers to enforce the law if it is disobeyed. The mosquitoes are bad; we admit that, but if people will not protect themselves by keeping clean premises we certainly can do nothing about it.

The Board of Trade will hold another meeting this evening to further discuss the cotton question. The business people are much interested in this matter, but the whole concern is to provide the very best market for the man who grows and sells the cotton, and this phase of the question should be the only one considered by the Board. Whatever is done should be done with this one view. Palestine wants the people of this section to market their cotton here, and wants the people to know that their interests are to be protected. If this result can be accomplished the Board will have done its full duty in the premises.

Don't let it escape your mind for a minute that the local democrats will hold a rousing rally at the city hall tomorrow night. A good program has been arranged and you will be entertained. No admission fee will be charged, but if in your enthusiasm you get up and throw a $10.00 bill at the chairman for the national fund no trouble will result and no effort will be made to eject you from the hall. This much by way of explanation.

It is Chanler and Hughes in New York. Both candidates seem to have the backing of the party machinery and it is going to be a pretty race. Hughes still wears his duster face adornments and looks very serene, but Chanler is a runner of the Olympian class, and will go some. New York is to be a political storm center until the general election.

We heard a fellow say the other day that he would give a thousand dollars to see Bryan elected this year. A review of the subscription lists failed to show where he had given $1.00 to assist in this $1,000 victory. Talk is cheap but cash is worth one hundred cents on the dollar.

George Bailey of the Houston Post says anyhow the new "pill-box" millinery will not "scrouge" the men off the sidewalks as the "Merry Widow" affair did. But the millinery bill will be just as "scrouged" as ever.

Bryan is taking the hide off of some of the big republican spouters at present, and shows a knowledge of modern campaign methods that is reassuring.

Mr. Bryan asks this question: How is Taft going to prevent panics when his god-father, Teddy, has one on his hands?

One thing good about the big pumpkin and sweet potato crops of Texas is that they will keep for a long time, and they get better all the time.

A civic society formed by the residents of each block of the city could work wonders in this good old town. What block will lead in this work?

THE MOORE CART

Took First Prize in the Labor Day Parade Sept. 7th.

The general committee having in charge the Labor Day parade and celebration did not provide at the time a prize for the best decorated private vehicle, but have done so since then, and have called upon the judges who passed upon the floats to also decide which, in their opinion, was the best decorated vehicle.

It was a very close question which of all of them was entitled to the

LADIES' READY-TO-WEAR SHOP

Great indeed was the assembly of ladies at The Model's opening—and we feel much complimented by the expressions passed on our merchandise.

The Model wishes to state that it will leave nothing undone to merit the patronage of this good city, and asks the public to make this store their headquarters.

Every day brings something new to us. Our buyers at New York have instructions to purchase "the latest" in our line, so if it's to be had in Palestine, you'll find it at The Model.

prize, but the judges at last unanimously decided this point in favor of the pony cart entered by Mrs. H. R. Moore.

The committee provided a silver tea set for the best decorated private vehicle.

DEATH OF DR. TUCKER.

Cause of Death Unknown—Was Popular Citizen of His Town.

Palestine, Texas, Sept. 17. Messrs. Hamilton.

I send you a clipping from the Inola Register of Dr. Edwin Tucker's death, giving the details so far as known.

Mrs. A. M. Glenn.

Dr. Tucker Dies.

Dr. Edwin Tucker's sudden death last Friday evening was a shock to the community. The doctor had been complaining for about a week and had been able to be about only a part of the time. He was a single man and slept in his office and took his meals at the restaurant. No one thought he was in any danger until Friday morning. Dr. Elliott and others visited him and found him in pretty bad shape. Dr. Elliott and Charley Mackin visited him again at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and found him much improved. Charley Mackin visited him again at 5 and found him still better. This was the last that was seen of him until about 8:30 Friday night, when Dr. Elliott and Charley Mackin visited his office again and found him dead.

Being unable to get the coroner, Squire Humphrey of Claremore was called and an inquest was held. Following was the jury: J. V. Brown, Ben Brown, Wm. Pettit, Guy Davis, J. E. Hathaway, J. H. Ross. The verdict was that the doctor came to his death from some unknown cause.

Little was known of Dr. Tucker's relatives. He was a most clever man and had many good qualities. His death was greatly regretted by all who knew him. The children of the town all liked him and many of them wept bitterly when they heard of his death. His remains were embalmed and held until tomorrow for interment.—Inola (Okla.) Register.

BOY WAS KIDNAPED.

Went Out of Theatre to Buy Candy and Was Carried Off By Men.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 16.—William Brayman, age eight years, was kidnaped last night. He went to the theatre with his mother and went out between acts to buy candy. He was taken away by two men, and nothing has been seen of him since then.

Elkhart Comes Across.

Elkhart this week sent Capt. G. E. Fowler, county democratic chairman, a purse of $5.75 for the national campaign fund. This will help, and other communities of the county should follow suit.

Mr. J. C. Townsend also sends $1.00 to help in the cause.

Every democrat in the county should add to this fund. Anderson county wants to send $1,000 to the national committee.
